NEW CLASSROOMS

The library now features three classrooms with state-of-the-art audiovisual capabilities, improved lighting and new furniture, conducive to a dynamic, collaborative learning environment.

LIGHT FROM ABOVE

The centerpiece of the library renovation is the new pyramid-shaped skylight over the building's central atrium that enables natural light to illuminate the spaces below.

WITH GRATEFUL APPRECIATION

Concordia Seminary, St. Louis is deeply grateful to Glenn and Kay Hasse of Naples, Fla., for their generous support of the renovation of the Kristine Kay Hasse Memorial Library. The Hasses are passionate in their support for students being formed to bring Jesus Christ to their congregations, communities and world. “There’s no greater gift that we can give but to help spread the Word that Jesus Christ is the Savior of the world,” said Glenn Hasse. “One way to do that is to encourage more people to go into the ministry. We are grateful to provide this gift for the library that will help to update the place where crucial preparation for ministry occurs.”

IN MEMORY OF KRISTINE KAY HASSE

The Hasses' support for the library is in memory of their daughter, Kristine, who died in an automobile accident at the age of 17, and is a testament to their deep love for the Seminary and its mission to prepare pastors, deaconesses and other church workers for future generations. Kristine, a star high school golfer, treasured her Lutheran upbringing. "It's just so extremely important to Glenn and me that we have pastors in our churches in the future, the kind we saw with our own children," said Kay Hasse. "That's our hope: to help more people to become ministers and church workers."

A LIBRARY FOR THE 21ST CENTURY!

“The myth is that books and libraries are going away. The truth is that libraries technologically equipped to reach people around the world will have a more profound impact than we could have imagined a few short decades ago. Our graduates will bring Jesus Christ to their congregations, communities and world. They will be served in this mission by the library, which will speed the best of theological resources to pastors and missionaries around the world.

“Concordia Seminary is immensely grateful to everyone for their support of the library renovation.”
